8. The Chairperson invited the Committee to take action on draft resolution A/C.2/64/L.45 which was being submitted by Mr. Mićić (Serbia), Vice-Chairperson of the Committee, on the basis of informal consultations held on draft resolution A/C.2/64/L.18. The draft resolution had no programme budget implications.

11. Mr. Igenbayev (Kazakhstan) said that the draft resolution just adopted once again drew attention to the economic vulnerability of intercontinental States and reaffirmed the priorities of the Almaty Programme of Action, which included trade facilitation for landlocked developing countries. Adoption of the draft resolution clearly signalled the international community's concern about the high transport costs incurred by such countries. In the past two years, his own Government had made a voluntary contribution of $150,000 to the United Nations trust fund in support of activities to promote transit transport cooperation. In its capacity as Chair-in-Office of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) in 2010, Kazakhstan would seek to promote the development of Eurasian transport corridors and sustainable, secure transport connections within the OSCE region.

Organization of work

He announced that the General Committee had decided to recommend to the General Assembly that an additional item entitled "United Nations University" should be included in the agenda of the current session and that it should be allocated to the Second Committee. That new item would be overseen by Mr. Mićić (Serbia), Vice-Chairperson of the Committee.

The meeting rose at 3.55 p.m.
